The Space Movement Project presents Recurrence Plot at Links Hall February 18-20, 2011.

Chicago, IL – The newest development in The Space Movement Project's signature collaborative process disperses the role of artistic director into equal shares between all seven members. In mapping out a collective compulsion to control, calculate and drive the formulation of a dance, dancer/choreographers learn that predictability is illusive. Sound design by Chicago-based composer Nick Sondy accompanies their work. Recurrence Plot runs Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18-19, at 8pm and Sunday, Feb. 20, at 7pm. Tickets are $15/ $10 Students & Seniors. All performances are located at 3435 N. Sheffield Avenue, on the second floor in Chicago, IL 60657. For more information call 773.281.0824, or purchase tickets online at www.LinkHall.org.

The Space Movement Project ("TSMP") is a non-profit organization in its sixth season. Working democratically to combine different voices into a single artistic statement, the group creates work that reflects upon developments in contemporary dance forms. The company empowers artists to create increasingly meaningful work and pursue individual artistic objectives by providing a forum for ongoing dialogue, and by sharing financial and creative resources.

COMPANY BIO:

TSMP has produced work at such notable Chicago venues as Links Hall, the Prop Theater, the Hamlin Park Fieldhouse, The Galaxie and Roosevelt University. In 2009, TSMP was selected to perform as a finalist in the inaugural Joyce SoHo/Columbia College A.W.A.R.D. Show! choreography competition. The company recently embarked on their first regional tour bringing their latest full-length work, "Safety in Numbers," to various Midwest venues in Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio. TSMP began managing Wicker Park's OuterSpace studio in August 2010.
